Mommy and Me Classes for Late Talkers and Children with Developmental Delays

Sensory Street Kids is a developmental multi-sensory approach to speech and social skill enrichment through music, movement and art. Our 50 minute parent / child groups, led by a speech therapist, are designed for families of children with known or suspected developmental delays in the areas of speech, sensory, gross or fine motor, and/or social skills. Our goal is to expose children to language and social building songs and activities and to educate parents on how to promote language and incorporate these skills into their child's everyday lives.

Classes include:

La La La Language: Learning to talk is easy when you're singing and dancing! We've taken a developmental approach to language acquisition and set it to music. Focus is on sound formation, imitation, single word labels and 2 word combinations.

Social Circle: Music, movement and partner games are incorporated in this fun class. Simple cooperative play is facilitated and activities focus on social use of language, turn taking and conversation.

Me & My Energy: Shake your sillies out and work your large muscle groups in this movement class. Sensory based activities, dances and obstacle courses help calm and regulate senses. Focus is on cooperation, motor planning, following directions and using and understanding action words.

Classes are held at the Smithtown CFA on Route 111. Special pricing for SEPTA families, $220 for 10 week session. For more info visit www.sensorystreetkids.com
